Data Analysis in High Dimensions

Contents:
In this course multivariate methods, e.g. principal components analysis, partial least squares regression, logistic regression, cluster analysis, discriminant analysis and canonical covariate analysis are studied, both from a theoretical and a practical point of view. Especially, the methods are also applied to real-life problems.

5 ECTS